Local Man Struck By Car, Dies

Driver Sought By Patrolmen

Harry Eugene Crooks, 69, of 326 West Third street, died in General hospital at 6:30 p. m. yesterday, approximately three hours after he was struck by an unknown motorist on Ashland road in Lincoln Heights.

Today, state highway patrolmen sent out a state-wide alarm for the motorist who, according to witnesses, stopped after the accident, asked that the state patrol be notified and an ambulance called and then left without giving his identification.

An estimated 25 persons at the scene shortly after the accident failed to get any description of the death car other than it was a "blue Ford", patrolmen said.

Cpl. J. L. Bishop, head of the patrol post, said the only available patrol car at the time of the accident was near Johnsville. He said the report was called in to the cruiser at 3:30 p. m. and that patrolmen arrived on the scene 24 minutes later.

Crooks was Richland county's first traffic victim of 1949.

"We hope the driver's conscience will bring him to us so we can learn what happened," Bishop said.

Technically, the hurried motorist was not in the wrong since he had witnesses that he stopped and tried to assist, patrolmen stated.

CROSSING HIGHWAY

According to what patrolmen could learn from witnesses, Mr. Crooks, a magazine collector, was crossing the highway to his car on the north side of the road when he was struck by the car. The car, patrolmen learned, was headed toward Mansfield.

Patrolmen added that Mr. Crooks never regained consciousness after the accident. They said he suffered an injury on the back of his head at the base of the brain. Officers said they believed Mr. Crooks was struck by the door handle of the car.

Scene of the accident was approximately one and three-tenths miles north of Mansfield on U. S. Route 42. The accident, patrolmen said, occurred shortly before 3:30 p. m.

Born in Garrett, Ind., Jan. 4, 1880, Mr. Crooks had resided in Mansfield since 1932. He was employed as a representative for the Columbus Periodical Publishing company. He was a member of Mansfield Lodge No. 35, F. and A.M., and the First Presbyterian church.

Survivors include his wife, Mildred Rummel Crooks; one brother, Orville of New Castle, Pa.; and one sister, Mrs. Lola Kovaschkitz of Willard.

Friends may call at the Finefrock funeral home where services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m., in charge of Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Bellville cemetery.

Army Moves To Hold Up Vital Items

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The army wants to make sure its generals aren't embarrassed by falling pants.

To defend them against such an unmilitary-like situation the service ordered 900,000 pairs of suspenders today from the Makegood Manufacturing company, of New York city.

The army announced the order as part of a new program to let the public know what it's buying.

2 Mansfield Men Killed In Traffic

1 Dies at Mt. Vernon, Other at Wellsville

Two Mansfield men died today of injuries suffered in separate traffic accidents.

The dead are:

William D. Richardson, 32, of 582 Lida street.

John M. Light jr., 25, of 122 Park avenue east.

Richardson died of a fractured skull today when a truck in which he was riding crashed into a ditch at Wellsville. Columbiana County Coroner Ernest Sturgus said the driver of the truck, Robert Hickman, of Wellsville, lost control of the truck while descending a hill.

Hickman did not suffer serious injury. Richardson was employed by a Wellsville trucking firm for about three weeks. The coroner said Richardson was accompanying Hickman as far as Ashland to visit relatives.

Light died early today in Mercy hospital in Mt. Vernon of head injuries received when the car he was driving went through a guard rail and broke a utility pole last Friday night on State Route 3, south of Mt. Liberty. A passenger, Glenn Poland, 31, of Mt. Vernon, suffered a pelvic injury and a lacerated hand.

Richardson, a Westinghouse employe, had no relatives here, it was learned. He is survived by his maternal grandfather, Oliver Beaver, his paternal grandfather. David Light, and his aunt, Mrs. S. L. Manning, all of Sisterville, W. Va.

The body was taken to the home of Mrs. Manning today and funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in Sisterville.

Head Turks Quit Posts

ANKARA —(INS)— The Turkish cabinet resigned suddenly today, and President Ismet Inonu immediately summoned political leaders to a confernce on selection of a new government.

The resignation apparently followed a dispute over Marshall plan funds.

Political observers predicted that some cabinet changes were imminent when Hasim Gulek, minister of communications, was appointed minister of state for Marshall plan aid.

The cabinet, headed by Premier Hasen Saka, may take office again after a reshuffle and the introduction of some new faces. Its members were of the Republican Peoples party, a nationalist group led by President Inonu and strongly sympathetic to the west.

Marjoe's officiating at the wedding touched off criticism from fellow clergymen, but authorities ruled the marriage legal.

House Gets Salary Bill

Measure Would Up President's Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) A bill hiking the pay of the president, vice president and speaker of the House is headed for House action Monday, after overwhelming Senate approval.

Passage in the House seemed virtually certain. The measure cleared the Senate by a 68 to 9 margin last night, the first major action in the 81st Congress.

The bill was shorn in the Senate of provisions for raising the salaries of cabinet members and other high government officials. Administration leaders feared that otherwise it might not be passed before the inauguration of President Truman and Vice President-elect Barkley on Jan. 20.

As passed by the Senate, the measure would increase the president's salary from $75,000 to $100,000 and would give him a new $50,000 tax-exempt expense allowance on top of his present $40,000 travel and maintenance allowance.

The salaries of the vice president and the speaker would be boosted to $30,000, an increase of $10,000. They also would get tax-exempt expense allowances of $10,000.

Teach Respect For Law; End Up In Jail

CHICAGO, — (INS) — The president and three members of a Chicago social club dedicated to teaching young men respect for the law were in jail today.

They were seized as members of a gang accused of two robberies, including one in a suburban Oak Park home. They are suspected of several others.

Police, investigating the robbery of Mrs. Marcellite Sellinger in her home in Oak Park Dec. 31, followed a trail to the social club on the city's west side.

Launch Drive For Dimes Versus Polio

Mansfield's March of Dimes campaign gets under way tomorrow when Boy Scouts will distribute 250 collection boxes to stores, schools, restaurants, taverns and other places where people congregate.

Sheriff's deputies will take the boxes to points in the county outside Mansfield as they make their rounds of duty. Altogether 700 of the boxes will be displayed. The drive extends until the end of the month.

Sponsored by the Richland county chapter of the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the local drive ties in with the national campaign currently under way.

The county chapter is headed by William Mead. Vice President W. H. McClellan is campaign chairman. Lucille Bushey, of Shelby, is secretary and Marshall Moore is treasurer. The executive committee consists of Henry G. Brunner and Dr. Harry Wain.

No definite goal has been set for this year's drive, but officers expect to exceed the $8,000 raised last year.

Health department records reveal that Richland county has had 19 cases of infantile paralysis since June 1947. The foundation has spent $10,529 fighting the disease since that time. The deficit was made up because of the use of funds which had accumulated during years when fewer cases developed in the county.

The machinery begins to work automatically when a case of infantile paralysis is reported to the health commissioner. Funds for transporting the patient to Columbus or Cleveland are immediately made available as are funds for prompt treatment.

The foundation is made up exclusively of non-salaried personnel. Personal letters will be sent to clubs and other organizations asking their support. Industries and commercial establishments will be solicited. A limited number of individuals will be asked for contributions.

Contributions may be mailed to: Marshall Moore, Treasurer March of Dimes, 703 Richland Trust building, Mansfield.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The state liquor department is investigating what an official described as a flood of 269 permits issued in the closing days of the Herbert administration.

The permits were for night clubs and bars a high official of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's administration said, and were issued between Dec. 28 and Saturday, Jan. 8.

Of these, 85 major permits were reported issued on Saturday.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert left office Jan. 10, and his top appointees in the liquor department resigned, effective then.

5 Reservists Die In Crash

INDIANAPOLIS — (INS) — Engine failure was believed today to have been responsible for the deaths of five naval reservists in the crash of their naval plane at Indianapolis.

The twin-engined ship based at the naval air station at Columbus, plunged to earth and exploded in flames shortly after taking off from Weir Cook municipal airport for Port Columbus late yesterday.

Don Seerly, a farmer who was nearby the scene, said the craft's engines sputtered and backfired before the plane crashed a minute after rising from the runway.

Increases To Total $36,000

Police, Firemen Given Edge

Pay increases ranging from $5 to $50 a month were granted to the city's approximately 250 employes by city council last night.

Most of the increases, effective Sunday, amounted to $10 a month, but certain exceptions were made. Several employes were not granted any increases, and others got more than the $10 average.

The police and firemen got increases ranging from $20 to $50 a month over the old 1948 pay scale, but took cuts ranging from $50 to $75 under the salary schedule in the initiated ordinance approved by the voters on Nov. 2.

Council repealed the initiated ordinance when the pay scale was set up. The increases will add about $36,000 a year to the city payroll.

Councilman Harry Bowman, chairman of the salary committee, and Fred Miller and Clifford Knarr of the finance committee made the following joint statement at the close of the meeting in way of explaining the repeal of the initiated ordinance:

"The action was necessary be-

Senators OK Acheson

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Dean Acheson won unanimous approval of the Senate Foreign Relations committee today to be secretary of state.

Quick confirmation is expected in the Senate. Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Foreign Relations committee has announced the nomination will come up there next week.

Acheson—who denied he ever was an "appeaser" of Russia got a clean bill after a secret session with the committee this morning in which he discussed in detail his views on foreign affairs.

Members had said before the vote they expected to know just where Acheson stands on continuing the cold war with Russia. They were sworn to secrecy.

EARL GARRISON

200 Idled At Plant

The Tappan Stove company has furloughed about 200 workers for five or six weeks because of a seasonal slump in production, a company spokesman revealed today.

Plant Supt. W. B. Mabee said:

"We are in a seasonal slump which was always experienced in the pre-war years in our industry during January and February. We have furloughed about 200 employes and hope to have most of them back to work within five or six weeks.

"We plan on doing everything possible to help place furloughed employes in other jobs until we are able to recall them to work," Mabee said.

He said the company had several promotions under way which "we feel confident will result in increased production in the very near future."

The Tappan company ordinarily employs about 850 persons.

Meanwhile, J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president of the appliance division of the Westinghouse corporation, said no lay-offs were planned at the plant here, and added there may be additional hiring.

Ashbaugh said: "We don't know exactly which way employment will go as yet, but we're contemplating hiring additional workers."

Ohio Brass company officials said no lay-offs were planned.

Akron Challenged

AKRON — (INS) — Akron had a new reason today for keeping its traffic record spotless. A telegram from Kansas City, Mo., yesterday challenged Akron, and other cities of like size, to reduce traffic accidents, injuries and fatalities.

Lashes at New City Pay Rates

Mayor Accepts With Regret

Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison resigned today, effective Feb. 15.

He said that his action was the result of the "prejudiced and discriminatory action of city council" in setting up the 1949 pay schedule.

Garrison is the third service-safety director to resign since Mayor Roy W. Vaughn took office on Jan. 1, 1946.

In his letter of resignation, submitted today to Mayor Vaughn, Garrison wrote:

"I would like to express at this time to you, mayor, my sincere appreciation for the cooperation and consideration I have been shown by you and those in your office, and hope that in the future you will feel free to call on me for any assistance I may be able to render in your behalf.

RAPS ORDINANCE

"However, the prejudice and discriminatory action of council in setting up (the 1949) salary ordinance, not only in the case of my position, but also numerous other positions, definitely, in my opinion, shows class legislation and under these circumstances, I have no alternative but to resign."

Garrison said that he asked council for $1,200 additional a year, but was offered only $300.

"Without reflecting on the police and fire chief, who are doing fine jobs, I want to point out that under the new pay scale they earn $3,900 a year as compared with my $4,000," Garrison said.

DELAYS DEPARTURE

Garrison added that he made his resignation effective on Feb. 15 to give Mayor Roy W. Vaughn every opportunity to find a replacement.

Mayor Vaughn, commenting on Garrison's resignation said today:

"I sympathize with him and will accept his resignation with regret. The sooner a job evaluation study is made and salaries set up on the basis of responsibilities and duties the better off we'll be.

"In setting up the salary ordinance, I don't think they made any consideration of duties or responsibilities."

Council Votes Record City Operating Fund

The record high 1949 Mansfield appropriation ordinance was approved unanimously by city council last night.

The grand total of expenditures for this year totaled $1,396,739, approximately $82,000 over the original 1948 appropriation bill of $1,314,343.

However, this year's measure does not exceed the total of last year's bill plus supplemental appropriations added during the past year. The total money expended by the city last year for all purposes was $1,621,758.

The total of general fund expenditures was $555,566, about $37,000 below the amount earmarked at the first of last year for 1948. However, a sizable increase in the anticipated expenditures of the water department, primarily due to the large amount of bonds that now must be serviced, upped the over-all total above last year's figures.

The appropriation ordinance earmarked $408,786 for the water department as compared with $269,000 last year.

The general fund was not completely depleted by this year's appropriation. Paul L. Kelley, city auditor, has estimated that $650,464 will be available for that fund this year.

This means council has set aside a $100,000 cushion to be used in cases of emergency and for unforeseen expenditures.

That it will be needed seems certain. Last year supplemental appropriations to the general fund totaled $152,000.

A breakdown of the major departments outside the general fund shows the following:

Garbage, $87,100; sanitary sewer, $73,800; parking meter, $47,650 (nine policemen and the traffic commissioner are paid from this fund); recreation, $14,360; and street, $164,910.

Comparing this year's appropriation with last year's show that the garbage department is up approximately $1,500; the sanitary sewer department is down approximately $13,000; the parking meter fund is down about $3,000; the recreation department is up $1,000 and the street department is up approximately $14,000.

Fire department, $145,120, ($149,030); police department, $117,520, ($100,385); storm sewers. $58,900, ($58,900); park department, $49,300, ($54,792); health department, $17,210, ($15,750);

250 On 'Face-Lifting' Job

Transform Coliseum Into Glittering Banquet Hall

A crew of 250 men today were transforming the Coliseum into a glittering banquet hall for the 37th annual Chamber of Commerce dinner tonight.

Workers swung into their carefully-planned routines at 5:30 a. m. and started preparing for the dinner, entertainment, check rooms, lounges, lighting and parking. Electric roasting ovens were installed around the spacious hall, and roasting of meat began at 11 a. m.

Four large semi-trailer trucks started early this morning hauling huge quantities of food, 2,100 chairs, lumber, cooking equipment, tables necessary to feed and entertain the 2,035 people expected.

Workers from Westinghouse, Tappan Stove, and Mansfield Tire and Rubber were putting the building in shape. Electricians, carpenters, and laborers made the hall a beehive of activity setting up tables, installing the stage, and putting up electrical fixtures. For the one-night-stand 26 fluorescent lighting units were installed and batteries of spotlights were fastened to posts and suspended from the ceiling. A special catwalk was built high over the floor to accommodate the floodlights and spotlights for the stage constructed for the occasion.

The stage is 54 inches high, 40 feet wide, and 26 feet deep. More than 3,000 feet of linen were provided for table cloths. The 2,100 chairs were acquired from the Elks club, the 40 et 8 club, Richland Recreation Center, funeral homes and a chair rental service.

Large quantities of food were in preparation. R. R. Hayes, chairman of the food committee, said a force of people stayed up all night preparing the Waldorf salad.

In addition to the people to be fed in the Coliseum about 250 more persons including help and entertainers will be fed at the North Lake park pavilion.

Entertainment will consist of a 30-minute vaudeville show, harp-violin numbers by Mrs. J. A. Herbert and Mrs. F. P. Walter, a 15-minute show, "Mystery In Bubbles," and selections by the Mansfield Choral society.

The main address will be delivered by Eugene C. Pulliam, editor and publisher of the Indianapolis Star.

Reich Court Frees 'Pal' Of Leaders

Hitler's 'Jester' Gave Allies Aid

MUNICH —(UNS)— Dr. Ernst "Putzi" Hanfstaengl, who combined piano-playing with nazi diplomacy during Adolpt Hitler's regime, was exonerated by a German tribunal at Wielheim yesterday of charges of being a major nazi offender.

The court ruled that his original enthusiasm for the nazi cause was outweighed by his later resistance to Hitler.

The so-called "court jester" of the nazi Reich boasted to the denazification court that he was a friend of Winston Churchill and the late President Roosevelt.

He produced an affidavit signed with the name of former U S Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, stating that Hanfstaengl was brought to Washington during the World War Two period by [illegible] of President Roosevelt The affidavit said "Putzi" con[illegible] information of "real value"

Hanfstaengl, a Harvard graduate on trial as a major nazi offender, sought to justify his early adherence to the nazi cause, insisting that later on he helped the allied war effort in the field of psychologigal warfare.

He told the German tribunal at Wellheim, Upper Bavaria, that President Roosevelt personally obtained his release from England, where Winston Churchill held him under arrest.

The President, he said, gave him a beautiful home near Washington, D. C., recalled "Putzi's" son from service with the U. S. army in the Pacific to serve as his father's chief guard, and gave him two other bodyguards.

Hanfstaengl, 67-year-old grandson of an American general, said that all he had to do in return "was submit one written report on psychological warfare every week to the President"

Hanfstaengl described Hitler as "a typical American-type self-made man"

Susie Q. Smith . . . .

"Funny, I always seem to run into Susie the day I get MY allowance, too!"

Pope Asks U. S. Aid

VATICAN CITY —(UP)— Pope Pius XII urged yesterday that the United States open its doors wider to refugees, including exiled priests.

He exhorted the Catholic clergy of the United States to redouble their efforts ao obtain admittance to America not only "for refugees torn from their kin, but also for their families and exiled priests."

His appeal was contained in a letter in Latin published in the Observatore Romano and addressed to Msgr John T. Nicholas, Archbishop of Cincinnati and president of the National Catholic Welfare Conference central office

The Pope recalled his deep interest in those who are driven to abandoning their homes by revolutions in their homelands and by poverty.

Claims Atom Bomb Is Size Of Softball

MEADVILLE, Pa. —(UP)— A college professor told a meeting of the American Chemical society last night that the atom-bomb weighs "in the neighborhood of 20 to 30 pounds and is about the size of an indoor baseball."

The actual size of the bomb is one of the country's top secrets, but a bomb must be a certain critical size before a chain reaction can be obtained.

The professor, Dr. J A Campbell, of Oberlin college, said:

"In spite of all the supposed secrecy about the bomb, it is easy to show that the explosive charge weighs in the neighborhood of 20 to 30 pounds and occupies a sphere of three or four inches—about the size of an indoor baseball."

Sees Hurt Sister Die

TEHACHAPI, Calif.—(U.P.)—The lone survivor of a plane crash that killed three persons said today she lay in the wreckage helpless and watched her sister bleed to death from a severed leg after the plane ploughed into a fog-shrouded mountain.

Mrs. Andy De Freitas, 24, of Burbank, was brought here last night by a rescue party which found her after she had spent five days in sub-freezing temperatures on Bear Mountain.

The woman was in serious condition from exposure and multiple fractures. Attendants at Tehachapi Valley hospital said she suffered fractures of both legs, one arm, a broken jaw and several fractured ribs.

The plane crashed Saturday night while en route from Los Angeles to Taft, Calif. Mrs. De Freitas said her husband, Andrew, 27, and the pilot, Robert Gloe, 30, Santa Monica, were killed outright when the plane hit the mountain. But her sister, Mrs. Eve Williams, 23, lived for a few hours despite a severed leg. She said she talked to her sister for some time before the injured woman lapsed into unconsciousness from loss of blood and died.

Unemployment Heads For Highest Postwar Figure

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Government figures indicated today that unemployment may be heading toward a new postwar peak. The more pessimistic government and labor economists say the number of jobless may reach 4,000,000 this spring.

None will predict, however, that the trend foreshadows any major trouble for the national economy. And there is a record $7,630,000,000 available in federal funds for unemployment compensation benefits to cushion any drop in jobs.

The Bureau of Employment Security said that unemployment claims are higher now than at any time since the 1946 crest, and are rising more rapidly than at that time. All states except Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota and Idaho reported an increase in initial claims for the week ended Jan. 1. This was the fifth c onsecutive weekly increase.

Officials expect another big jump when last week's figures are compiled. They will reflect layoff of retail workers hired for the Christmas and inventory season. New York state alone added 45,000 for that period.

All the federal statistical agencies denied knowledge of a New York report that a federal estimate indicated unemployment might total between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 persons this spring. Some statisticians said privately, however, that "that might be a good guess."

Chairman Edwin G. Nourse of President Truman's economic council said the rise in unemployment is spotty. He said it should be quickly reversed when construction activity resumes, when the auto industry completes its changeover to new models, and when temporary layoffs in other industries end.

"Unemployment is one thing on which we are keeping a close watch to see that it does not become something for alarm," Nourse said.

Pension Checks Mailed; Turnpike Bill Stirs Up House

Knox Would Have Voters OK Highway

Measure Viewed With Suspicion

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Delayed checks for thousands of Ohio's old age pensioners poured into the mail today.

Some 50,000 of them were held up because the new legislature for the first time in a decade took two weeks to appropriate the money, about $5,770,000 for January benefits.

The rest of Ohio's 124,223 aged pensioners will get their checks on time, says Karl R. Babb, chief of the Division of Aid for the Aged.

Rep. George H. Kirkpatrick (R-Knox) introduced a proposal in the House to let voters decide at next November's election whether they want toll roads as well as free highways in Ohio.

His constitutional amendment resolution requires a favorable vote by three-fifths of the members of both the Senate and House for passage. It then would be placed on the election ballot for final approval by voters.

Proponents of toll super-highways for Ohio like the famous Pennsylvania turnpike viewed Kirkpatrick's move with suspicion. They recalled he led the fight which defeated a turnpike bill in the last legislative session.

That proposal was offered by Sen. Ralph A. Winter (R-Medina). Winter and Sen. William M. Boyd (D-Cuyahoga) already have introduced a similar measure in the new senate.

It would create a four-member Ohio turnpike commission empowered to build and operate superhighways financed by private funds. The commission would sell bonds to get money to build the turnpikes. Tolls from users would pay off the bonds and the roads then would be "given" to the state for part of its highway system.

Winter contended that the state lacked the money to maintain its road system adequately and also build super-highways.

"The only way Ohio can get super-highways is through private financing," Winter said. "That's what my bill provides," he added.

Both the Senate and House wound up their second week's work yesterday and adjourned until Monday night. They will meet jointly then to hear Lausche outline his program for the biennium.

Morgan County Wins Trophy For Best Fair During 1948

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Morgan county had Ohio's best fair in 1948.

The county won the honor—and the Myers Y. Cooper trophy—last night at the closing session of the Ohio Fair Manager's association.

A banquet marked the end of the session, during which delegates asked the Ohio legislature to reappropriate $500,000 for purchase of a new fairgrounds site near Ohio State university.

An appropriation made earlier expired Dec. 31 with the end of the biennium.

Delegates earlier adopted resolutions asking legislative approval of county fair participation in local taxes of not more than $4,000 or less than $3,000. County fairs now receive a maximum of $2,000 and a minimum of $1,500 each year.

Other resolutions adopted included one asking legislative approval of allocation of $20,000 for permanent improvements at each county fair a year; maximum now allocated for annual capital improvements is $10,000. Another resolution opposed amusement taxes on county fair receipts.

Presentation of the Cooper trophy for the best fair was made by former Governor Cooper to Mrs. Ida Smith, wife of Ray C. Smith, Route 2, McConnelsville, secretary of the Morgan county fair.

Mrs. Smith was introduced as the fair board's assistant secretary who does all the work." The Smiths own a 700-acre farm in Morgan county.

Other counties vying for the trophy in the final round of competition were Lorain, Champaign and Crawford.

250 Workers Granted Pay Increases

Boosts to Total $36,000 Annually

cause there was no money, or fund raising method, provided for in the initiated ordinance.

"There was not enough money to grant increases as large as those for the police and fire department under the initiated ordinance to all city employes.

"Therefore, in fairness to the other departments, it was necessary to repeal the initiated ordinance so that comparable raises could be granted in all departments."

CITE OTHER CUTS

The councilmen added that "we had to cripple the 1949 street and sewer program in order to grant the raises that we did approve."

Since the firemen and policemen have stated that council should raise additional funds so that vital services will not be cut and to grant larger increases, the question of payroll or income tax naturally came up in the post-meeting discussion.

The consensus of council is contained in the statement of one: "This is an election year."

The joint police and firemen's salary committee which steered the initiated ordinance through to passage issued the following statement today:

". . . The people of Mansfield are well aware of the efforts made by the joint salary committee of the police and fire departments to secure some action from city council for a cost of living wage adjustment.

"It was only after the need for pay increases was ignored by council that the police and firemen went to the voters of the city.

"The people, as indicated by their vote at the Nov. 2 election, were wholeheartedly in favor of the salary ordinance submitted to them.

"Now if the elected representatives of the city see fit to ignore the will of the people they represent, there is nothing we can do about it at this time."

THANKS VOTERS

The committee thanked the voters for their vote of confidence on Nov. 2 and promised that "regardless of the action of city council, they will continue to serve . . . in the best possible manner."

Here is a comparison of the old, new and initiated ordinance wages:

	New	Old	Init. ord.
Chiefs	$325	$275	$400
Capts. (Police and Fire)	280	255	360
Lieut.	260	240	330
Detectives	280	255	360
Traffic Com.	285	255	360
Patrolmen and Firemen	250	230	390

In all cases, except the chiefs, a $25-a-month cost-of-living bonus is included. The chiefs do not get it because their base pay is over $3,500 a year.

The larger raises granted in other departments other than police and fire follows:

Street Supt. E. W. Davis, $25 a month; Water Supt. O. C. Kalbfleisch, $35 a month; Fred Lingafelter, secretary of the water, sewer and garbage departments, $25 a month; Al Strachan, garbage department superintendent, $25 a month, five garbare department truck drivers, $25 a month, and the sewer department bookkeeper, $26.60 a month; electrician, $20 a month.

Fifteen-dollar-a-month raises went to the deputy auditor, a stenographer clerk in the water department; the meter reader, and the municipal court bailiff.

Other city employes were upped by $10 a month, excepting all elected officials (the law prohibits raises during their term of office), the sanitary engineer, B. V. Bevier, Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison, junior engineers and draftsmen in the engineers' department, the airport truck driver (although all other truck drivers got $10 raises), and George Caton, the parking meter collector.

Council did not explain why these workers were not included in the pay increases.

School Fraternities Targets For Civic Organizations

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Cincinnati Board of Education was caught right in the middle today of a developing fraternity-sorority argument.

Cause of the whole thing was a proposal before the board to abolish fraternities and sororities in Cincinnati high schools.

Yesterday, the board heard proponents of the measure call such organizations "un-American" and claim that they develop "attitudes of disrespect for law and authority."

But that was only half the story.

Today opponents of the plan to abolish fraternities and sororities will present their side of the story. Just whether the 'teenagers themselves will show up to defend their organizations wasn't known but the board was looking for most anything.

The Citizens School committee, the Council of Churches, the Hamilton County Good Government league and the Woman's City club were among groups which urged the fraternities and sororities be abolished.

man of the Citizens School committee, said his organization "deplores the existence of any high school groups which interfere with the studies of the students, which adversely affect the full personality development of students, which place on students an undue financial burden and which hurt students through membership requirements based on false standards."

Mrs. J. E. Stembler, who represented the Good Government league and the Woman's club, told the board fraternities and sororities are "un-American" and make for class consciousness.

Claims Soil Conservation Can Double Farm Output

U. S. Expert Shows Way To Profits

Cites Advantages Of Wise Farming

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, head of the U. S. Soil Conservation service, says soil conservation methods can double farm food production by 1970.

Furthermore, he says full use of conservation methods will leave the farmer with more profit.

1. On 10,000 farms that have been studied, conservation methods increased production an average of 36 per cent. Bennett personally visited 68 farms in all parts of the country and found production had increased 40 to 300 per cent.

2. In another study, 1,872 farms produced crops worth $4.90 more per acre than similar farms without conservation plans.

In these studies allowances were made for weather and other conditions.

Bennett found that in 1947 the cost of conservation work done by the soil conservation service was $1.47 an acre. It cost farmers on the average about three times as much as the government to perform their share of the conservation work. The average total cost was $5.88 an acre for farmers and government agencies.

"Thus, the farmers almost paid for the soil conservation work, $5.88 an acre, from the annual increased profit that resulted from the work, which was around $4.90 an acre," Bennett says.

"We believe the soil conservation work will be more effective as we go along. It can double production."

He adds that conservation work provides one advantage that hasn't been emphasized but now is receiving more attention.

"The point is this," he says: "You can grow crops on poor land by adding minerals and fertilizers. Everybody knows this. But you reach a point, if the land is poor, where the value of the fertilizer and other materials that have to be supplied are out of all proportion to the value of the crop harvested.

"What we want to do is to keep the soil in the best possible condition by conservation methods, so the least possible amount of work or expense is involved.

"The man who cooperates with nature, and lets nature do as much as possible, and still reaps the biggest crop, is the man who will make the most money."

Thieves Loot Two Autos

Theft of $52 in auto accessories and clothing from two cars parked in the northeast section of the city, was reported to police yesterday.

Wade West, 1062 Olivesburg road, reported that $43 worth of clothing, including blankets, trousers, jacket and a scarf, were stolen from his car while it was parked in the Westinghouse lot on First avenue Wednesday night. West said entrance to his car was gained by breaking a front window.

Theft of two rear-view, outside mirrors from the car of D. J. Graham, Mansfield, R. D. 2, was reported to police by Graham late Wednesday. He said the theft occurred while his car was parked at the rear of Miller's cafe, Newman and Orange streets.

Army Halts Draft Exams

Selective Service headquarters yesterday ordered draft boards to discontinue sending registrants to the army for physical examination, the Associated Press said.

The order will remain in effect until further notice—probably until the army resumes calls for draftees.

The draft boards also were told to stop classifying registrants as 1-A and 1-AO. Men classified 1-A are ready for immediate induction; those classified 1-AO are conscientious objectors.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, sent this telegram to all state directors with a request that they notify local boards:

"Call for men to be inducted during February cancelled. No call will be issued during March."

The Richland county draft board reported no word had yet been received from state selective service headquarters concerning the stoppage of physical examinations. Notices of induction were sent out to five men today. The men will be inducted Jan. 26.

Party Is Judged By Its Candidates

WHILE national leaders of the Republican party are engaged in the task of probing for weak spots and endeavoring to restore that once dominant party to its earlier strength in leadership, it will not be amiss for those who are responsible for directing the Republican party course in the lower levels of state, county and municipalities to also check up on weaknesses and to seriously attempt to strengthen public confidence in candidates offered for elective offices.

Timeliness is given this subject for the reason that declarations of candidacy for Mansfield city offices must be filed with the board of elections not later than Wednesday, Feb. 2, and it is only those who have filed by that time who can be voted upon at the May 3 primaries.

Completion of the present second term of the incumbent mayor will mark ten years of Republican occupancy of the mayor's office in Mansfield, prior to which time voters had shown an inclination to shift from one party to the other at more frequent intervals—usually in the hope of improving the quality of administration.

While some individuals are inclined to aspire to the office, these are quite often not the type of persons who possess qualifications needed to satisfactorily perform the duties of chief executive of a city of Mansfield's size and complicated problems.

Candidates presented by a political party are assumed to represent the best persons available within the party, which places heavy responsibility upon those who direct party destinies on the local, as well as on the national level. Dependence, therefore, can not be safely left to the mere desire of someone to run for a public office, or continue therein, if some better qualified person can be induced to become a candidate.

Last November's Republican defeats, nationally, in Ohio and in Richland county may well serve to sound a warning that a mere party label is no longer sufficient to assure election of persons to responsible public offices—and to serve as a reminder that whatever is done in the matter of bringing out really creditable candidates for Mansfield city offices must be done before the Feb. 2 deadline for filing declarations.

Some Postal Rates That Lose Money

EVEN WHILE millions of dollars may seem small when billions enter so largely into the federal spending program, one such small item to which reference was made in President Truman's budget message merits congressional attention.

He told Congress that second and third class postal rates are too low and are largely responsible for the post office department's big deficit. He suggests that the rate for mailing newspapers, magazines, circulars and other printed matter be increased to at least reasonably near the cost of handling—which seems entirely proper.

Mr. Truman promised that specific recommendations will be forthcoming from the postmaster general, for increases in mail rates designed to add about $250,000,000 to the department's income for the fiscal year 1950 but which would still leave an estimated deficit of $150,000,000.

It is interesting to note that the President also mentioned that some costs, such as governmental mail (franked and carried free) and airline subsidies, could not be charged directly to postal service users.

Propose Abolishing Electoral College

THE NEXT constitutional amendment might well be one abolishing the electoral college. Freedom House, a New York City organization created to promote liberal thought and founded to commemorate Wendell L. Willkie, has just raised its voice in behalf of this cause.

Whether the method adopted be that proposed by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, which would divide each state's electoral votes proportionately according to the popular vote, or some other, the electoral college should go. Its existence exposes the presidential race to chicanery and the possibility of defeat of the popular will. It has defeated that will in the past, to no great harm because times were quiet.

These days are so full of risks that all needless ones should be abolished. Congress should act this year. It takes a long time for a constitutional amendment to work its way through 48 state legislatures. Adoption requires a three-fourths vote—36 states.

Outlook For Europe Far From Bright

THE Organization for European Economic Co-operation has prepared its master economic plan for Europe for the balance of the scheduled life of the Marshall Plan. It presents Europe as having the expectation of being $800,000,000 in the hole, as to exports and imports, in the year following the end of the aid program.

Conclusion for the people of Europe is that for the next few years they can expect to continue to live on short rations, be frugally clothed and housed, and carry on the seemingly endless effort to keep their countries from bankruptcy. The economists cannot yet foresee a time when Europeans can relax and enjoy the fruits of a good year.

On the other hand there is no more certainty of accuracy in this forecast than there might be in a rosy one. It is based on presumptions of certain world market conditions in 1952 and 1953, and certain relations at that time between the prices of goods and commodities in Europe and in the Americas and Asia. These presumptions may be generally right, or they may be far wrong.

Iffy, the Dopester, writing in the Akron Beacon Journal, recalls having once known a fireman who thought it would be a good idea to put out a fire by throwing oil on it. "They called him nuts," Iffy relates, "but nowadays they would say he was a New Deal economist who had discovered a new way of stopping inflation."

A Kentucky judge has fined himself $10 on a charge of "public drunkenness"—assumedly already being in the "Men of Distinction" category.

Will There Be Anything Left?

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Truman To Direct Acheson's 'Policies'

DEAN ACHESON, the President's choice for secretary of state, has many qualifications for the job. He is an able lawyer. He makes a good speech. He is amiable, likable and gracious. He has a good record of experience in the state department.

But against the background of the office to which he has been named and the men who have filled the job in our history, he is not a strong choice. This writer has never heard those who knew him best in the Harvard law school or in the practice of law call him a strong man. He is not distinguished for broad imagination or for confident force of opinion.

Acheson's most potent early sponsor was Felix Frankfurter, then a professor at Harvard. Because of that, Acheson was chosen for the prize post of secretary to Justice Brandeis.

In 1933, presumably again sponsored by Frankfurter, he was appointed by Roosevelt under secretary of the treasury under Will Woodin. Acheson has in the years between his spells of public service served in a law firm headed by distinguished men.

In short, his entire career has been under the shadow of strong men whom he has faithfully served. He has never had to determine policy on his own.

In 1933 his brief months in the treasury were not happy. Woodin, the secretary, was a businessman and a conservative. Roosevelt was busy with experimentation. The most serious issue arose late that year, when the President decided to try Professor Warren's gold-buying scheme. Acheson, torn between loyalty to Woodin and the will of Roosevelt, suffered Promethean agony. When Woodin decided to retire, Acheson went, too, and Morgenthau took over.

* * *

Truman Will Do Deciding

ALL THIS is not written to predict disaster in foreign relations. It is intended to point up the fact that Truman has decided to be his own secretary of state and has chosen a faithful and agreeable administrator and spokesman for his policies. He has apparently decided to go on without his generals.

In this kind of appointment, Truman is following the tradtion of Wilson and Roosevelt. Wilson, after the resignation of Bryan, depended on secretaries of state who were not dominant figures but who were technically able administrators of presidential policies.

Roosevelt selected Cordell Hull because he liked him and felt that he would not be difficult to direct. Hull proved to be more self-willed than was expected, and so Roosevelt by-passed him through innumerable special assignments to others.

Truman is thus squarely in recent Democratic tradition. He has abandoned the tradition in which presidents selected such sizable men as Seward, Blaine, Hay, Root and Hughes and then gave them wide discretion.

The talk about Acheson's attitude toward Russia cannot be taken seriously. In the treasury and, later, in the state department, he brought in a good many young men, mostly lawyers from Harvard. Among them were some who had leftish tendencies.

In his new post Acheson will be just as tough with Russia as the President wants him to be—no less and no more. The answer to our Russian attitude lies with the President alone.

Farmer's View of Fox-Hunting

Editor News-Journal:

Our nephew dropped in Saturday evening for supper, but he didn't appear to be in his usual boyish spirits. Part way through the meal, he said: "I was to a fox hunt today, over by Lucas. A whole gang of men with guns would surround a fox and it sounded like a battle. I just think it wasn't a fair sport! Once when we started a circle, the captain said, "Shoot hawks, owls — anything that moves!"

And this was the impression of a 15-year-old boy!

Why do these "killers" try to disguise themselves as "sportsmen"? Their excuse for these activities is that the fox takes rabbits and pheasants. On mine, or any other farm a fox is much more beneficial than rabbits or pheasants, who live off our grain and vegetation. A fox may take a carelessly enclosed chicken now and then, but he more than repays it by the rodents he destroys.

No, they know the fox is cleverer in hunting than they are, although he doesn't even carry a gun, and these "sportsmen" are jealous of him getting the game before they do.

They call the fox a predator. But which is the worst predator, the fox or man? He only kills to feed himself and family, which these "sports" with their trick duds and artillery cannot admit.

The farmer that allows this kind of a band of "killers" to run over his farm is just a sap, as they are just kidding themselves in denying they are destroying the balance of nature in the wrong direction.

The fox was here long before this type of man was, and the game got along better than under these conditions. And most of our owls and hawks are very beneficial, and I wonder how many of these gunmen can distinguish the difference.

I know many farmers are against these tactics, and one of these Saturdays they will run into some wholesale arrests for trespassing.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Claims Wave Uniforms Cost Too Much

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — North Dakota's Senator Langer, who forced the Navy to reconsider the outmoded uniforms of Navy enlisted men, has now been checking into the high price of Waves' uniforms.

He is also interested in the fact that Waves' clothes were patterned by Mrs. James Forrestal and one of New York's ritziest designers, formerly associated with her.

Senator Langer points out that at a time when the Navy is making the Waves a permanent part of the armed forces, it supplies free uniforms to enlisted men, but requires the Waves to buy their clothing out of a meagre $264 allowance.

What also interests Senator Langer is how the Wave uniforms happened to be executed by Mainbocher, whose specialty is selling gowns to the Duchess of Windsor and other ladies along Park Avenue. Mainbocher (real name Lou Main Bocher) was former editor of Vogue Magazine when Josephine Ogren, now Josephine Forrestal, was Vogue's fashion editor.

Before the war, Mainbocher was the rave designer of Paris. But with the outbreak of war he returned to the USA, and in 1942 combined with Mrs. Forrestal to turn out the first Wave uniform. Inquiry at the Navy reveals that Mainbocher was not paid for his services, and that the Navy also considers the cost of Wave clothing strictly bargain-basement rates, in view of the fact that Mainbocher sells ladies dresses at $600 up.

That, however, does not help a girl with only $264 to spend.

* * *

High Price of Blues.

THE Forrestal-Mainbocher hats designed for the Waves cost the Waves $21 each, which some of the girls consider more in keeping with Mainbocher's Duchess of Windsor clientele. Out of the $264 allowance, a Wave has to buy a $33.10 Mainbocher raincoat, a $33.30 Mainbocher overcoat, a $13.90 Mainbocher blouse, plus such accessories as underthings, hosiery, gloves, shoes, purse and, of course, makeup.

When the announcement of these prices was first made by Wave Commandant Captain W. Underwood, now retired, she remarked ruefully: "Nothing is furnished but the money, and not too much of that."

Senator Langer contends that there is no reason why enlisted women should be discriminated against, and that since the sailors and soldiers get free uniforms, Waves should be treated likewise.

* * *

Jewelry Deals.

THE senator's interest also focuses attention upon other designing activities of the wife of the secretary of defense. The versatile and charming Mrs. Forrestal, in addition to conducting one of Washingtons' most attractive social salons, has had time to go in for selling jewelry.

Some years ago she made an arrangement with Paul Flato, fashionable New York jeweler, to give her a 50-50 cut on profits made from certain business. A jewelry designer herself, Mrs. Forrestal gave Flato jewelry she purchased from other dealers with the arrangement that he was to sell at higher prices, splitting the profit with her.

In 1944, after Flato was given two years for stealing jewels belonging to another Fifth Avenue jeweler, Louis Bergman, Mrs. Forrestal filed suit against Flato for the return of 13 pieces of jewelry she had given him. She claimed a loss of $37,253.

* * *

Forrestal Jewel Holdup.

THIS loss, incidentally, came on top of an earlier $48,000 loss when Mrs. Forrestal, returning home at 2:10 a. m., July 2, 1937, with Richard B. W. Hall, a broker, was robbed of a sunburst with a 25-carat emerald; a platinum bracelet 2½ inches wide with bands of diamonds; a platinum ring with 27-carat emerald, a platinum ring with 14-carat diamond, and other expensive jewels.

The secretary of national defense, then an executive of Dillon Read, investment bankers, was asleep in his home when the robbery occurred just outside his house at 27 Beekman Place. New York newspapers next day featured the fact that, after hearing the police alarm, Forrestal slipped out the back entrance, vaulted the back fence, ran down an alley, and caught a taxi to his club where he spent the remainder of the night.

New York newspapers also described how his wife went to the police station to look over the rogues gallery and face the line-up without her husband.

* * *

Merry-Go-Round.

IT'S GOING to be O. K. for Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott to remain on as GOP national chairman. Though Scott's a Dewey man, Congressman Clarence Brown, a Taft man, has refused to lead a fight against him . . . Colleagues want Scott to resign from Congress, however, so he can devote full time to rebuilding the party . . . Looks like Arkansas, not Missouri, was now running the nation. Latest Arkansan to step into the seat of the mighty is Frank Pace as director of the budget. Pace will have almost life-and-death power over many government bureaus . . . Other Arkansans who sit in the seats of the mighty are: Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder; Leslie Biffle, Senate secretary and Truman's closest adviser, and John Steelman, administrative assistant to the President.

'Art,' As Dali Views It

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK—Yessir, it's quite true that if Salvador Dali, the surrealist painter, had his choice between a Persian rug and a Picasso painting, he'd take the rug.

Even art circles were incredulous when word seeped back from Spain, whence Dali has just arrived by easy stages, that the master of the melting watch had committed such heresy against Pablo Picasso, a fellow Spaniard long since deified as the fountainhead of modern art.

But it is true, too true. In a mixture of Catalonian Spanish, menu French and mangled English, Dali today reaffirmed his apostasy by saying the equivalent of "gimme the rug."

Abstract art, says Dali—and la! won't it make the long-hairs livid—is decorative art and therefore a secondary art, somewhat akin to interior decorating.

These are fightin' and feudin' words in modern art circles. But Dali did pour a little oil on the raging waters.

In his suite at the St. Regis, where he hangs his beret when in New York, Dali said he ranks Picasso as "one of the greatest geniuses of our period.

If there seems to be some slight contradiction here, it is merely that Dali believes Picasso mastered the art of painting before he took to his abstractions. But Dali swears that Picasso's abstract followers are such lazy, good-for-nothing hams they shouldn't be allowed to paint a moustache on a tooth-paste ad.

Dali said (in translation):

"If, for my home I am asked to choose between one of the best oriental rugs and an abstract painting by Picasso, I would choose the rug!"

Dali wouldn't use modern abstract art. Speaking with the righteous air of a juvenile delinquent turned state's evidence, Dali said such art was at best decorative but incapable of expressing "beeg ideas of philosophy."

* * *

It's All So Confusing.

ABSTRACT art confuses the public, piously asserted this artist, whose own masterpieces have had the layman and many art critics in a fog for the past 25 years.

The technique of the masters, of such men as Valasquez and Raphael, has been completely lost in modern art, Dali said as he glided about his drawing room, his black eyes shoe-button bright and his long, waxed mustachios quivering like ebony antenna.

Only two types of art are being produced today: traditional and, bah! abstract.

It may come as something of a surprise to his public, who has seen Dali women with heads composed of cabbage roses, and men with torsos like an exploding accordion, that this surrealist classifies himself as a traditionalist.

"As long as an artist paints in traditional form, he can paint the most fantastic subject in the world," Dali stoutly contends.

"I was painting atomic fission 20 years before she happen," he proudly declared. That explains the exploding men. He added:

"My painting was prophetic. The world is just catching up with Dali. The new physics makes all things fluid. Now the public understands the melting watches."

Every great painter only mirrors his own epoch. Dali insists he has been painting Freud and psychoanalysis, and Einstein and chain reaction all the time.

"The reality of the atomic age is far more fantastic than anything I ever paint," Dali cried. "The world's craziness has surpassed Dali's craziness!"

It could be.

Speaking of Your Health

Causes of Wakefulness

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PEOPLE who find difficulty in sleeping may be suffering from some physical condition producing pain which would naturally interfere with sleep. The large majority, however, are healthy and lose sleep because of some emotional or social difficulty.

Disturbed sleep may indicate difficulty in falling asleep, interruption of sleep, early waking, or a combination of these things.

Nervous and Tense.

Persons who find trouble falling asleep are usually nervous, tense, and overactive. They take their problems too seriously. No sooner do they retire than they begin to fidget and squirm, and begin to think and worry about their problems. After the condition has been present for some time, their chief worry is their inability to fall asleep.

Those who wake up several times duing the night are usually middleaged. They frequently fall asleep soon after retiring, but they awaken during the night with such symptoms as muscle cramps, abdominal pain, or a feeling of fullness in the chest. These persons, too, spend hours worrying about why they cannot sleep.

Elderly Persons.

Those who wake up early usually are elderly persons who tire easily and, because of this fatigue, they often sleep during the day and go to bed early at night. Naturally they will then awaken early in the morning.

If you are troubled with sleeplessness, consult your physician. He will be able to determine if there is any physical reason for the sleep disturbance and then can advise proper treatment.

If you are found to be in good health, there are a number of things which may be helpful in overcoming the sleep difficulty. Perhaps one of the most important is to make every possible effort to eliminate worry, and particularly not to take worries to bed.

Eating Before Bedtime.

Some persons may find that eating before they go to bed is helpful in producing sleep, but this depends upon whether or not hunger is present. If the person is not hungry there is no value in eating.

Excessive fluids just before going to bed should be avoided, particularly in older people with prostate gland difficulties.

If smoking, coffee, and alcoholic beverages interfere with sleep, they should be avoided; if they do not interfere, their use in moderation will cause no such difficulty.

Another important factor in sleep is relaxation. It is impossible to fall asleep when the muscles are tense. Some persons find that reading in bed brings about the necessary relaxation.

Dave Boone Says:

FOR A country boy who made it the hard way back in old Missouri, where a strict regard for thrift and simple arithmetic was necessary, Harry Truman sure has blossomed into a superdooper spender.

* * *

I'll bet he had to take a couple of aspirin tablets and some smelling salts after he read his own 1950 budget proposals.

* * *

Harry was noted back on the farm for plowing a straight furrow, but he's zigzagging these days. And his plow looks like a de luxe model vacuum cleaner which locates your last dime by radar.

* * *

The idea is to save Europe and Asia, get set for possible war and still shoot the works at home. It looks like Harry thinks you not only can have your cake and eat it but could give it all away and still cut bigger slices for yourself.

One Man's Opinion

LOOT stolen from 26 senators' offices has been returned to them. . . . Vice-President Barkley got back a 20-pound ham. Sen. Lucas recovered a $40 radio and two Republicans claimed a pair of broken shoelaces.

* * *

But when 26 offices can be sneak-thiefed in the Senate building it indicates a need for larger mousetraps in the state department.

* * *

There is evidence now that top drawer secrets sifted to the bottom and went out on a slot boat to Moscow.

Many will wonder why Vice-President Barkley had a 20-pound ham in his office. . . . It was installed while he was still a candidate and it looked like a cold winter for Democrats.

Winter's Bright Side

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE WIND is shrill and bleak today. The house is drafty. In spite of the straw bales piled about the kitchen wall, the cold sifts in. The coal pile has dwindled, too. One windy day takes more coal than several days of tranquil winter weather.

The straw bales are an innovation that occurred when the kitchen sink pipe froze early last month. The boys hauled several trailer loads from the barn and ranked them beneath the kitchen windows that face the prevailing winds. With pick-up balers becoming numerous about the locality, I have noticed several neighbors who have similarly insulated their cellars or hen-coops.

One of the neatest laying houses I ever saw was built of poles and straw bales. It was comparatively neat, inexpensive, warm—and every year a match could be lighted to it and the whole thing replaced brand new.

There is a challenge about a stormy, squally day that puts zest into living. Even though a man spends his day stoking furnace or stoves — even though the sharp wind chills his marrow while he brings in the firewood — even though the gray sky puts down gusts of hard-driven snowflakes that prick his face with the keenness of needles, there is still satisfaction to pull on wool stockings, and an extra pair of pants, to muffle the ears with woolens and button the coat to the chin, then to venture forth daringly where the groaning tree limbs creak and strain, and the familiar path to the barn becomes strange.

And the youngsters love it! The lake beside the Scout Cabin, near our village, centers the young gaiety of the teen-age crowd. There is a fire beside the ice, and from the cabin porch the music of records via loud speaker.

If the snow keeps on until it covers hills and valleys, there will be skiing and bobsleding and even sleighs with bells.

Neighbors who winter in the South each year have gone there, long ago. Let them have their shuffleboard, and their surf bathing, their fishing and their torrid atmosphere! Let them pick oranges and swat mosquitoes. Let them beware of sitting on the grass or of drinking the native water. Let them watch the croaking, regurgitating pelicans and their uncouth young ones. Let the dust blow into their eyes.

We are at home—by the fire—and we have our heart's desire. Let the blizzard roar! Not all its snow can mock our hearthfire's ruddy glow. Winter is so nice.

Sentenced To Prison After Mishap

Man Then Invited To Leave City

Danville Tackett, 27, of Mansfield, R. D. 2 was sentenced to 120 days in the Columbus workhouse in municipal court today and got an invitation from Judge H H. Schettler to stay out of Mansfield when his sentence is up.

Tackett, whose driving license was permanently revoked a year and a half ago by Judge Schettler, was arrested Tuesday after he drove into the path of a semi-tractor truck on Bowman street road. The impact caused the truck to swerve and turn over, the truck driver narrowly escaping serious injury. Tackett's car then collided with the second vehicle, a private car parked on the highway.

Judge Schettler explained that Tackett has been in Mansfield since 1942 and the "community probably would appreciate it" if Tackett "moved on" after his release from the workhouse.

BROTHER CITED

Tackett's brother, Roy, of the same address, also appeared in court on a contempt charge, growing out of failure to pay damages to Courtney Hout, Mansfield, R. D 4, whom Tackett was convicted of beating.

Court officials said Roy Tackett ignored a motion to appear Dec. 23 on a charge of failure to pay damages. Suspended sentence of 60 days in county jail, for the beating, was vacated and Tackett was committed to county jail and fined $10 and costs on the contempt charge.

In other hearings in court today, James W. Jones jr., 318 Miller street, pleaded innocent to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. Hearing of the case was continued to Jan. 18 with bond set at $500.

Howard R Thomas, Mansfield, R D 1, was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to speeding, and Adrian Welch, Mansfield, R. D. 2, forfeited $25 bond when he failed to appear on a speeding charge.

Eleven vacancies which expired at the end of 1948 are to be filled by the elections among the YMCA membership. Ballots are to be mailed next week.

The questionnaires are designed to obtain general information on the backgrounds of each of the persons nominated, Taylor said.

Red Leader Lays Down Peace Terms

Would Cancel U. S.-China Pacts

SHANGHAI — (AP) — Mao Tze-tung, Chinese communists leader, today demanded abrogation of treaties between China and the United States as one of eight prerequisites of peace

The Red leader, in a Chinese language broadcast heard here, also demanded trial of "war criminals" presumably to follow any peace move.

Mao, accusing Chiang Kai-shek of warring against the communists because he was lured by the glitter of American weapons, called upon the national leader to show the sincerity of his desire for peace by accepting Mao's conditions.

Mao said China was depending on United States support against the people's will He added that Red soldiers will liberate them

Eight peace conditions (which may be modified by an English language broadcast) were given:

1. Trial of all "war criminals." Chiang heads the Red list of "war criminals," followed by Madame Chiang, who is now in the United States.

2 Cancellation of the constitution.

3 Calendar years to be counted from Anno Domini and not from the Republic of China's founding.

4 Elimination of "reactionaries" from the government and army

5 Confiscation of "bureaucratic'" capital

6 Land reforms

7. Cancellation of "treacherous" treaties with imperialist nations

8 Formation of a state council to include all Chinese elements, except reactionaries.

'Y' Shop Closed Temporarily During Remodeling Program

The YMCA craft shop has closed until the middle of next week while major remodeling operations are under way, Maurice Taylor, YMCA general secretary, said today.

The remodeling includes painting the shop, building a tool room, installing flourescent lights, and rehabilitating all the tools and machinery.

The program is one of the last phases of the $15,000 building rehabilitation started last fall The craft shop will be divided into two sections—one for table crafts, including leather, metal, and model plane work, and the other for woodworking, including archery equipment making, toy making, and construction of small pieces of furniture

Boys at the "Y" make the items for their own use Ralph Chapman is in charge of all the craftwork He is assisted by volunteers teaching each of the crafts.

The rest of the building rehabilitation program included painting the interior, general reconditioning of upstairs rooms, reconditioning the pool, and installing a target range.

Federation Members Learn Art Of Living With Peace of Mind

By OLIVE GRESMER

DR. J. L. ROSENSTEIN, psychologist, author and lecturer, spoke Thursday to an attentive and appreciative audience at the Ohio theater. Nearly a hundred members of the Mansfield Federation of Women were given pointers on "Adventures In Living" and "Peace of Mind."

His subtle humor and basic reasoning was quite a contrast to the first in the series of lectures given this season for Federation members. Archduke Otto of Austria had been the first speaker, using as his subject, "Communism."

Describing himself as an optimist, Dr. Rosenstein entertained the group with down-to-earth suggestions on the right pathways of living.

"Everyone must have a shoulder to cry on," said the doctor, "someone to pop off to. Without this, no one can have peace of mind."

He stated that leisure is a menace, not a blessing. He advocated that the world needs vocational guidance for happier living, because without a planned life, one has frustration, discontent and lack of faith in human nature.

The forceful speaker urged each one to establish a solid rock of ethics for himself and to take a mental inventory periodically.

He compared a warped mind with a warped body, saying, of the two, a warped body was of the lesser importance.

"One's physical well being is only secondary to a mental well being," said Dr. Rosenstein. "It is important to your peace of mind to learn how to live with others and to learn to deal with an individual according to the other's qualifications."

The doctor's 18 years of experience as a psychologist enables him to give convincing facts concerning the right pathways of living. He told his audience to keep doing things even though they sometimes felt it was the wrong pathway, because, without moving one could never go in the right direction for happy living.

"Plan for tragedy the same as for happy days," said the doctor, "then you will not be at loss when bad hours come." "Have a simple faith in human nature-at-large and in yourself.

"Too many people," he said, "are so busy being concerned with what the other fellow is doing that they fail to get a true picture of themselves. It is never too late to do something about your peace of mind," he stated in closing.

Following the lecture sixty attended a luncheon at the Women's Club. The next event for members will be a bridge party at the club next month. The closing lecture in the series, for the season, will be a talk by Constance Paul, interior decorator and architect, March 10, at the Ohio theater.

BOOKS GROUP

The Current Books Group of the Mansfield Branch of the American Association of University Women will meet Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the First Christian church. Mrs. Harold Robson will review the book, "The Bride of Fortune" by Harnett P. Kane. Guests are invited to attend.

A letter of gratitude from J. W. Hey, dean of boys at the Xenia Soldiers and Sailors Orphans' Home, was read. He thanked the members for the Christmas gifts sent to them.

The next regular meeting will be held January 28 in Memorial hall.

Franklin Art Club Meets

Mrs. John Snyder, Shenandoah, was hostess to twenty-two members of the Franklin Art club at her home recently. Mrs. Edward Butenschon was the assistant hostess.

Round Table Discussion Held By Pleasant Valley Gardeners

MRS. ROBERT FICHTER, 705 Yale drive, presided as hostess to 13 members of the Pleasant Valley Garden club, at her home Thursday. Mrs. Robert Paxton assisted Mrs. Fichter in entertaining the group.

The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Richard Sturges, at which time Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Ralph Hanno reported on the Christmas project of the club, which consisted of presenting an attractively-decorated tree to the Children's ward at Mansfield General hospital.

The program included a round-table discussion on the topic, "What Gardeners Should Be Doing In January In Preparation for Their Summer Gardens." Mrs. James McConnell, program chairman, conducted the discussion.

Later the group was served a dessert luncheon, buffet-style, from a long table centered with an unusual arrangement of sweetpeas in varied shades of pink. Mrs. Sturges presided at the table.

Another meeting is planned for Feb. 10 at the home of Mrs. Sturges, Davis road.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Saturday, January 15

THERE is warning against all high tension, irritable, rash and wayward conduct, on this day, if a hectic, disagreeable and regrettable situation is to be side-stepped. A potent and indomitable urge to "upset the applecart," break rules and regulations, indulge in egotism, rash, tumultuous and rebellious conduct generally, could draw down wrath and reprisal from all quarters, with oppositions, strife, loss, regret

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have the opportunity for diverting excess and rampant energies into constructive channels where enterprise, initiative and practical application could turn the trend of affairs into profitable and worthy operations A possible overwrought and egotistic state of the emotions, feelings and inclinations, could "run amok" into disaster, regrets and loss With control, calm direction and repression of temperamental outbursts, some really creative and constructive purpose might be served

A child born on this day may be driven by inner urges to do things with a high hand, overconfident, indulgent, temperamental and daring, to its detriment Such energies could be disciplined and directed into sound creative adventure

Provides Personal Tax Listing Data

Farmers Get New Inventory Schedule

A new farm inventory schedule, to be filed along with personal property tax returns, has been mailed to farmers of Richland county, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said today.

The new form carries space for itemizing domestic animals as to value, grade, and whether registered or purebred, and the number.

Other pages in the form call for listing the amount of farm products on hand and the items of farm equipment.

The list is to show the domestic animals, farm products and farm equipment owned as of Jan. 1.

This special inventory form, together with the total value of all taxable property, is to be presented before April 1 to the county auditor's office for guidance in preparing the personal property tax form return.

Tax Commissioner C. Emory Glander said the state is requiring the listing of all hay and grain owned Jan. 1 regardless of whether it is to be used for feed or grain.

5,000 GET FORMS

Wolfe said about 5,000 of the new forms, together with an explanatory letter written by Glander, have been mailed to rural box holders in the county.

He said he would attempt to familiarize farmers in various communities, probably at a bank or some central point.

The listing period for personal property remains the same, Feb. 15 to April 1, Wolfe said.

In his explanatory letter, Glander said farmers might find the new form "burdensome". But he added, "I am sure that you don't want to be taxed on a different basis than other farmers. The new form will assure you that all persons engaged in farming will be paying taxes on their property in direct relationship to others."

LOST 75 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Mrs. Della Phillabaum, Box 203, West Lafayette, Ohio writes, "I have lost 75 lbs. with Rennel in four months and have never known a hungry moment. I am so much lighter on my feet and have never felt better. Rennel has done a world of good for me."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Rennel.

Child Killed, Five Injured

HAMILTON—(INS)—A three-year-old girl was killed, five persons were seriously injured, and 16 others were nursing cuts and bruises today following the collision of two Cincinnati-bound buses a mile south of Hamilton.

Sandra Jackman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jackman of Hamilton, died of a fractured skull several hours after the accident. The child was riding with her aunt, Mrs. Anna Creech, who was injured seriously.

Butler county officials said the first bus stopped to discharge a passenger and the second bus ploughed into it.

Prowler Wanted Out

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(UP)—The night watchman in an Albuquerque laundry still hasn't figured out what the intruder was up to.

Discovering a prowler in the laundry, the watchman asked him "What do you want?"

"I want out," said the prowler, pointing a pistol at the watchman.

The watchman opened the door as the prowler walked out.

One out of six excessive drinkers is a woman.

A Half-Century of Leadership
1899-1949

OHIO, with its prosperous and balanced economy of farm and factory, and Otis & Co., a pioneer in the State's financial and industrial development, have grown up together.

When Otis & Co. entered the investment banking business in Cleveland in 1899, Ohio had a population of 4,000,000 and Cleveland some 380,000. Today Ohio, with 7,000,000 people and with its metropolis exceeding the 1,250,000 figure, is a leader among the States of the Nation. Similarly the annual value of manufactured products in Ohio has increased from $748,000,000 to more than $15,000,000,000 and the annual value of its agricultural products from $200,000,000 to more than $1,000,000,000.

Ohio's score of populous cities are the "home towns" of internationally known industrial organizations and the productivity of its agriculture ranks with the best of America's fertile farm belt. Its network of railroads is supplemented by the magnificent water transportation facilities afforded by the Great Lakes on the north and the Ohio River on the east and south.

Nation Ired By Sports Bribery; Tolerates It In Public Offices

DAVID SHAPIRO, a veteran and a co-captain of the basketball team of George Washington university, has been honored for turning down bribes from crooked book-makers. He not only spurned the money but courageously and honestly played a long game of cops and robbers in cooperation with Frank S. Hogan, the district attorney, who could tell him some puzzling facts of life in a nation which bawls and carries on over sordidness in sport but thinks nothing of it in the fields of public trust.

On the whole, sport in the United States is one of our cleanest institutions. By an interesting paradox, it is, however, most dishonest in the offices of noted educators, including clergymen, in charge of great universities.

We assue that racing is normally crooked because there is so much ready money on display and because criminals, whether ex-convicts or not, follow the races habitually and, from time to time, own horses.

But the public damage from a fixed horserace is precisely nothing, cash, inasmuch as a fix only means that the winners and the losers are changed about.

And the moral loss is petty inasmuch as we are not surprised at amusing little stories of drug store specials.

For all we know to the contrary, baseball is still clean and skulduggery in prizefighting is regarded as mere mischief at worst, which is an injustice because a true Barney may be a feat of art.

In college football, the dishonesty has always been localized in the president's office. There is a fellow with degrees to his name and perhaps a Rev. in front who connives and contrives with "youth" to set them forth as unpaid amateurs when they are actually employes required to play for their pay whatever its form.

He is a solemn liar and all the impressionable boys and girls on the campus know it. It was a seasonal and migratory scandal for many years from the beginnings of commercial football about the start of the century until the present era.

But now the pretense is dropped and the colleges frankly pay their amateurs and ustify the practice as a beautiful compromise and fine training for future giants of politics.

I find one of my colleagues on the sport side crying out, apropos David Shapiro's public service, "Is nothing sacred?" He is a little overwrought, for after all, the sport side is a never-never land sweetly remote from life.

Actually, bribery in spory is only the natural spread of the rot. It is no more, to use a mild word, ghastly than bribery or venality in procurement of aircraft where the example really undermines public order.

Is it that innocent college men who read the papers and know all about Pendergast and Hague and racketeering in the White House are contaminated by contact with bookmakers?

That seems to be the contention, but if it is only a matter of a year or two until he has left college to accept graft on contracts, why prolong the kid's adolescence? Why not give him a laboratory course, and what more appropriate field than in 'varsity sports where the learned savants hadn't the morals to turn square and, finally, out of weariness, just quit pretending.

41,000 Join F-H Program During 1948

Last Session Held In Old Building

By NITA BRANSON

For the last time in 35 years of existence the board of directors of Friendly House held their annual meeting last night in the old settlement house on North Main street.

When the time comes for another annual session, it is expected that the new building on North Mulberry street will be completed.

Last night Mrs. Vernon Lawrence was named a member of the board, replacing Mrs. Jay Small, who resigned.

Director Russel Gimbel said that activities showed an increase of eight per cent over the 1947 record. There was an aggregate attendance of 41,344 persons. This does not, however, represent the actual attendance, Gimbel said.

"The volume of work and time necessary to carry on our in-town program does not always reflect in the attendance figures, for there are many hundreds of other persons who enjoy our facilities without becoming affiliated as registered members," Gimbel said.

In his report on the athletic program, Gimbel said there were six basketball leagues with participants from eight to 30 years. In addition there were dodge and volleyball leagues, the annual city-wide basketball carnivals and tournaments, city-wide foul shooting contest, boxing classes, exhibitions and tournaments and softball leagues.

Hidden Hollow camp showed an increase of 90 per cent in its six years of operation. Last year there was a total of 398 boys and girls registered for the camp as compared with 212 the first year.

During the past summer there were new sleeping cabins added, one sponsored by the Zeta Rho sorority and the other by the Bauer Brothers Construction company and their employes. A $2,500 chapel was erected by the 40 et 8 club and a $2,500 crafts hall by the B'nai B'rith.

Before the coming summer, Gimbel said, it will be necessary to enlarge the sanitary facilities, increase the water capacity and place washing conveniences in both the boys' and girls' camp as well as increase the electric power.

Treasurer Donald S. Black said that Friendly House had operated at a deficit of $313.97. Total receipts for the year were $21,787.68. Total disbursements were $22,101.65.

Mister 1949!

Baby Naps as Gift Shower Hits

Little Michael Robert Bocka, who will be two weeks old Saturday, slept peacefully in the arms of his mother Thursday, unaware that he was being officially crowned "Mr. First-Born of Mansfield, 1949", by Robert I. Peele, Advertising Manager of the News-Journal, who presented the parents with letters from 13 Mansfield merchants entitling him to an array of gifts.

"Mike" as he will probably be known to his frfends in the future, won the title by being the first baby to get the New Year when he arrived at General hospital 3:15 a. m., New Year's Day.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bocka, who live at 26 Blanche street, realize that their youngest son is a very lucky person.

Among the gifts which will help make his babyhood more pleasant are a carriage-robe from the Jack and Jill Shop; a hand-decorated nursery chair from Batson's; a bottle-warmer from Lautsbaugh's Drug store; a "surprise" package from Sam Fox.

An all-wool blanket from Scattergood's; a satinbound crib blanket from Montgomery-Ward; a baby carriage from the M. O' Neil company; a two-way high chair from Sears-Roebuck company; a bed and mattress from Kobacker's; a sterilizer and bottles from Ven-Mar Drugs; a baby bottle-warmer for the car from Penn Auto Store, and an electric vaporizer from the Ohio Public Service company.

The Jones Ambulance Service provided the youngster with his first "ride" when they drove him and his mother home from the hospital.

Although "Mike's" brother and sister are too old to share their baby brother's gifts, they are anxiously looking forward to helping their mother take him for his first carriage "airing", snugly wrapped in his new gift-blankets. Larry is just two years old, while the new arrival's "big sister", Loretta, is six..

Michael Robert Bocka, Mansfield's first baby of the year, sleeps peacefully in his mother's arms as Robert I. Peele, left, advertising manager of the News-Journal, presents his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bocka with letters of introduction to 13 Mansfield merchants who have set aside an array of valuable gifts in honor of 1949's "First Arrival."

TRIPLETS ARE 8—

The Solomon triplets are eight years old tomorrow. Carol Ann, Sara Lou and Billy, children of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Solomon, 431 Edgewood road, are planning their usual special celebration. Tomorrow they will receive their gifts and the scores of cards always sent them but the big birthday dinner will not be held until Sunday. Usually, the entire family, which also includes Mary Margaret, the Solomon's older daughter, dines out on this memorable occasion but the triplets have been having the "sniffles" and Mrs. Solomon said today they might dine at home Saturday.

HELP THE BIRDS—

The birds around Woodland school will be getting plenty to eat this winter. Three students at the school have organized a bird feeding club which now has 80 members. The pupils, Billy Schaal, a fifth grade pupil; Robert Welsh, of the sixth grade; and Jimmy Kolb, of the fourth grade; organized the club. The 80 members, all pupils at the school, contribute feed and money to buy feed. A bird feeder station has been set up back of the school. Only problem now is what to do about the squirrels who are stealing the food set out for the birds.

THE REAL THING—

If those quart cottage cheese containers for the March of Dimes collection which you'll begin seeing about town don't look official enough, don't worry—they are. The sponsors of the drive didn't order their supplies from the infantile paralysis foundation early enough this year so the cardboard containers had to pinch hit for the regular collection cans. After considerable sleuthing 700 of the containers were dug up. But the problem of putting a slot in the top still existed. Then an ingenious mechanic devised a tool which turned the trick. Girl employes at the courthouse are pasting March of Dime stickers on the containers.

Railroad Ready to Start Job

Kyle Seeks Zoning Measure

The Pennsylvania railroad was granted authority by city council last night to construct safety gates at East Fourth, East Fifth and Orange street crossings.

The gates will be of the short-arm variety extending over half the width of the street, so that a person caught on the tracks can continue to travel through without breaking the gates on the other side.

At the same time, council asked the railroad to give consideration to the need for a warning gate at Longview avenue. However, the latter project is still in the "talking" stage.

The railroad has agreed to erect gates at the other crossings and has been waiting for council's OK before beginning work.

ASKS COMMITTEE

On a motion of Councilman George Kyle, Council President Paul Bush took under advisement a request that a zoning ordinance committee be named.

Kyle stated late last year that a zoning ordinance proposal would be made early this year.

The service-safety director was authorized to enter into agreements for hospital and laboratory services for indigents and to advertise for bids for fire insurance for city vehicles.

Council also instructed the clerk to contact the state director of highways about getting state aid to erect traffic signals at Cook road and Lexington avenue and East Fourth street and Ashland road.

Must Apply For Reward

Daniels 'Tips' Need Legal Backing

Guy F. Stewart, chairman of the Richland county commissioners, said today that only formal applications will be considered in their determination regarding paying the $5,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of murderer Robert Murl Daniels.

Stewart said that on the advice of Prosecutor Harold Lutz the board will consider only formal applications stating the grounds on which the applicant seeks the reward. It must be accompanied by an affidavit, attesting that the facts in the application are true.

He said the board was not seeking applicants, but had informed one of the applicants, James A. Hildreth of Columbus, of the board's decision.

At the same time, Stewart said he did not know whether the reward would be paid or not, but that that depends on the applications.

Commissioners on July 22, the day after the Niebels murders, offered the reward.

Ideal Honors 14 Employes

Fourteen employes of the Ideal Electric Manufacturing company were presented certificates for having completed 25 years of service at the plant yesterday.

S. Glenn Vinson, president of the company, made the presentations.

The company club of employes who have served for 25 years or longer now has 35 members. During the Christmas holidays members were given a party at the plant and each member received $25 from the company.

New members of the club include James W. Funk, William Touby, M. M. Vogel, Park C. Wachtel, C. R. Burgett, Jack Graham, Mark W. McKee, Zeneth Carver, Stanleigh B. Vinson, Kathryn Horner, Verna Borden, Albert Mulberg, Laza Beka, and John Schoesler.

Breaks Record But Unhappy

OAKLAND, CAL., — (INS) — Capt. Bill Odom was sleeping off today the tiring effects of a trans-Pacific flight that set a new world's light-plane record — but with which he was not satisfied. Before dropping out of sight to go into his deep slumber, the famed aerial globe-girdler vowed he would return to Honolulu as soon as possible for another attempt to fly nonstop from Hawaii to the New York area.

Odom inferred that faulty weather forecasting was responsible for the fact he fell short of his original goal by 3,000 miles because of unforeseen headwinds and thunderstorms.

Farm Forestry Move Sparks Convention

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The Ohio Forestry association opened its 45th annual meeting in Columbus today with emphasis on farm forestry programs.

Association Vice President Bryce Browning, of New Philadelphia, headed the list of today's speakers. A feature of the two-day gathering will be an exhibit of the wood carvings of Ernest Warthur, of Dover, nationally known for his work.

Bromfield Hails Farm Machine Use

"The farmer is the best example of the civilized utilization of machinery in the world today," Louis Bromfield told an audience of Kenyon college students and faculty in Rosse hall, Gambier, yesterday.

Observing that machines are dominating man, the author and agriculturalist said that the farmer, unlike many other Americans, uses the machine intelligently, to get his work done quickly and efficiently. "The pressures in our lives, created by the machine, have helped to cause the early end of many leading business men," he said.

Bromfield spoke of "the tyranny of the telephone" saying that 90% of the phone calls made are unnecessary. "A post card would have done as well. I, for one, never answer more than one out of 30 summons to the phone."

"The average man thinks this is the most civilized country in the world because it has the most radios, refrigerators, bathtubs, and so forth. This is not so. A hermit in a cave can be more civilized than a millionaire with four cars."

Bromfield also told the Kenyon students, "I have never known anyone who went out with the goal of making money who succeeded." He explained that men like Morgan and Ford were primarily interested in what they were doing—in the fascinations of banking or the building of cars. The money, he said, came incidentally.

Overspecialization was also decried by the speaker, who observed that the specialist believes he has the key to all the world's problems. He does himself harm by his narrow view and he can do harm to society. The speaker concluded with a word of praise for the liberal arts education, which, he said, gives a man the values he lives by.

Will Probe Racket

LORAIN—(AP)—City Prosecutor Austin O'Toole plans an investigation to determine extent of the numbers operation here. "We don't know just how big the operation is, but we are going to try to get to the bottom of the racket in Lorain," O'Toole said.

Druggist Wounded

The brother of a Mansfield woman was shot and wounded yesterday in Cleveland in an exchange of gunfire when three men held up his drug store.

The sounded druggist is Wayne B. Albee, brother of Mrs. A. C. Rinella, 295 West Third street.

Albee was shot in the side, but he succeeded in dropping Donald B. Smith, 19, of Huntington, W. Va., one of the bandits with five gunshot wounds. Police believe Smith had two companions in the robbery.

The accomplice escaped with $11.93 from the cash register and $9.24 from a postal substation in the store. Police believed another accomplice may have been waiting in the getaway car.

New Castle police said Smith was a suspect in the robbery of a relative's home there last Tuesday. Police here learned he recently enlisted in the army.

Tools Stolen At Workshop

Supt. L. C. Stingel of Springfield township schools, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday approximately $100 of small tools were taken from the workshop.

Discovery of the theft was made yesterday afternoon, but it occurred Wednesday night. Deputies said they were unable to find evidence of breaking and entering.

Among the tools taken were depth gauges, calipers, micrometers, surface gauges and electric drill bits.

Considered For CIO Post

Joseph Hawkins, president of Local 711, United Electrical Workers (Westinghouse) today, was considered a probable successor to one of four vice-president positions of the Ohio CIO council.

Delegates to the Ohio CIO convention in Cleveland met in caucuses last night and early today, mapping strategy in a move to oust the present four left-wing unionists from the posts.

Main targets of the attack are Lem Markland, of Dayton; Ozro G. Staas, of Lima; George Grigsby, of Cincinnati, and George Martin of Portsmouth. The first two are UEW representatives on the council and Hawkins is considered a probability for one of their jobs, according to press dispatches from Cleveland.

Elections are scheduled for tomorrow's session of the convention and right-wingers stated that it was doubtful that Markland and Staas could win support of the United Electrical delegation.

Delegates said they are confident that Jack Kroll, president, and national chief of the Political Action committee, will be re-elected.

Return Bodies Of 3 Soldiers

The bodies of three soldier dead from the Mansfield area are among 4,504 World War II dead who are being returned to the United States from the Pacific area aboard the United States Army transport, the Department of the Army, announced today.

Of the total number, 208 bodies are being returned upon the instruction of next of kin residing in Ohio.

Those from this area and next of kin include Pfc. Bruce N. Beighey, Merrill L. Beighey of Tiro; Pfc. Marshall D. Pence, Mollie M. Pence of Ashland; and T-4 Mer.e W. Richey, Mrs. Bilber Kissel of Ashland.

All three men served in the Army.

Next of kin have been notified in advance of the arrival of the vessel and will be notified again after arrival of the bodies at the region distribution centers of the American Graves Registration service, the Army said.

3 to Attend Antique Show

Two Mansfielders and a resident of the Mansfield area are planning to attend an antique show and sale in Lexington, Ky., which begins Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Funk, of 353 South Main street, are leaving Saturday and will remain in Kentucky for the four days the show lasts.

Gene Wright, of Lexington, also will attend the show.

Mrs. Funk said she believed the show was the first of its kind to be given at Lexington, Ky., and is expected to draw a large crowd from the surrounding area.

Army Service Upped 1 Year

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The army today increased its minimum enlistment for recruits from two to three years.

Volunteers have been joining up faster than the army can absorb them. February and March draft calls already have been cancelled and additional steps to trim the enlistment rate are now being studied.

Army officials said lengthening the enlistment period will not only save the taxpayers money but also benefit the service. They explained that under the two-year enlistment, basic training and travel to assignments overseas cut each volunteer's term of "actual duty" to about a year.

Tug Strike Averted On N. Y. Waterfront

NEW YORK. — (INS) — A tugboat strike that would have paralyzed New York's waterfront was averted today by an eleventh-hour settlement of a contract dispute between the union and towboat operators.

Settlement of the threatened walkout was announced last night by Mayor William O'Dwyer just 57 minutes before the midnight deadline.

Action was taken by the Ohio Milk Producers federation at its annual meeting in Columbus yesterday to investigate the reason why farmers are receiving a declining percentage of the consumers' dollar in the face of continued high production costs, according to Dale Dohner, of Mansfield, new vice president of the federation.

Speedy Foe Is Scheduled At Ram Gym

By CHARLEY STINE

Madison will have the upper hand in size but speed and experience will be playing for the visiting Loudonville Red Birds in the high school basketball tussle slated for the Rams' gym tonight.

The Rams will be after their third consecutive victory and sixth in eight starts while Loudonville has won three of five. Reserve teams of the two schools will meet in the 7:30 p. m. preliminary.

BIRDS ARE FAST

Loudonville is probably the smallest team Madison will face but is also one of the fastest. Its tallest man, Center Bill Porter, stretches to only five feet ten inches.

Porter is the chief scoring threat of the team and from him the Red Birds graduate in size down to Bill Foster who is five-seven. Gerald Cowen, a guard, is near the size of Porter, while Forwards Carl Young and Glenn Reynolds are five-nine, and Guard Gene Harsch is five-eight.

The Birds' young coach, Harry Statler, refuses to stick to a starting five and has used the above six boys in various combinations with Foster playing both guard and forward.

WERE GRIDDERS

Porter, Cowen, Foster and Young were members of Stetler's team which won 13 and lost only three games last year. The same quartet will be remembered by Madison fans as members of the crackerjack football team which beat the Rams 19-6 here last fall. Porter was the plunging fullback, Foster the little hand-off quarterback, and Young the place-kicker.

Loudonville lost its opening cage game to Wooster by some ten points but since has turned back Danville, Orrville and Chester while bowing by eight points to Rittman.

On the Madison side of the ledger, Center Joe Distl still remains a question mark but is expected to see some service. Distl played only three minutes of Tuesday's game at New London because of an injured back which has handicapped him for several weeks.

Distl's loss would take some of the height advantage from Madison, but one six-footer, Ray "Dutch" Bader, would be left and would undoubtedly jump the tip-off. Guard Ed Chelski and Forward Jim Brightbill also are slightly taller than any of the Loudonville cagers.

Richland Hunters Slate Fox Drive At Beagle Club

Third fox drive of the season will be staged by the Richland county fox hunters tomorrow at the Olentangy Beagle club, east of Mansfield off Route 30.

Hunters will meet at Madison high school at 8:45 for the morning hunt and at the Beagle club for the afternoon session. Lunch will be served at noon at the club, Harold Snyder, president of the organization, announced today.

The Richland group bagged 11 foxes in the first pair of hunts. Last week, 10 horned owls and two chicken hawks were included in the "catch."

Field marshalls for the hunt will be Arthur Schnittke and C. E. Smith A. C. Neal, Paul Stone, Dallas Wagner and Fred Schnerer will serve as line captains. All area hunters are invited to participate.

New College Grid Rulings Announced

PALM SPRINGS, Calif.—(AP)—There won't be much difference in the matter of wholesale substitutions running on and off college football fields next fall, but the game will be a little more exciting and a little less rough.

Such were the deductions today as members of the international rules committee headed homeward after another tussle to improve the grid regulation book.

Coaches will not be permitted to send one player at a time into the game while the clock is running—a practice that brought on the push button term. That's out.

They will be able, when the ball changes hands, to send in as many players as desired on either team. But subs must be in and ready to play while the clock is running and before the customary 25-second period elapses from the time the referee placed the ball in position.

Those are new edicts. They can still send in as many players—platoons included — while the clock is stopped. They can still replace one injured man and opposing coaches at such junctures can field as many fresh players as fancy dictates.

ENCOURAGE OFFENSE

Encouragement to offense is contained in these rules:

A player can elect to run back a punt from scrimmage if the ball is caught in the end zone. This used to be an automatic touchback and the ball was placed in play on the 20-yard line.

If a punt receiver gets nailed in the end zone, back of the goal line, it still goes as a touchback and the ball goes to the 20-yard line. If he is tackled on the one yard line, that's where it goes into play.

Passing behind the goal line was encouraged. A new rule says if a legal forward pass is incomplete in the offensive team's end zone, it is to be ruled an incompleted pass instead of a safety, as the old college rule stipulated.

An intercepted pass, in or out of the end zone, or a recovered fumble, in or out, naturally goes for a touchdown for the opposing team.

Charles Signs For Cincy Bout

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Joey Maxim of Cleveland and Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati have been signed for a 15-round heavyweight boxing bout here Feb. 28, it was announced last night by Sam Becker, Cincinnati boxing promoter.

He said the fight would be held in the new Cincinnati Garens, an arena now nearing completion.

Charles currently is rated as one of the top contenders for Joe Louis' heavyweight crown. Becker described the bout here as "the next thing to a heavyweight championship affair."

College Gridiron Stars

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Cleveland Browns added a pass-catching duo and a rugged defense specialist to their roster today.

Newest members of the All-America Conference champs are ends Mel Sheehan of Missouri and Bill McPeak of Pittsburgh and guard Odell Stautenzberger of Texas A and M.

Joe Harrod's 657 Leads City Bowlers

Four Commercial B league bowlers went over the 600 series mark with a bang last night on the Colony lanes.

Joe Herrod was the leader in the pin massacre as he cracked out 201-222-254—657 for the Ingram-Martin team. Rolling anchor for the same team was Phil Warga who boasted 179-249-193—621.

Despite the brilliant rolling of these two Ingram lost two games to Liederkranz which was paced by Nick Weber's 634. Weber, the former football great and semi-pro softballer is in only his second year of serious bowling but cracked out consecutive games of 200, 210 and 224.

The fourth honor roll score was a 604 turned in by Ken Carlisle of Yunckers.

Mansfield Rug and Linoleum won three straight games from Oak Park to take over the league lead. Dearman's Transportation dropped one back as it lost two of three.

★

A quartet of women entered the "Weaker Sex Honor Roll" with 500 scores. Evelyn Marshman led this group as she turned in a 553 score for Lemley's Cleaners in the Women's A league.

Others were: Sis DeWeese, 540, Elnora Kanz, 529, and Hazel Hilborn, 515. Donna Shuster has a 212 opening game but slipped to 136 and 151 for a 499 series.

★

In the Women's Industrial, Helen McCracken pounded out a 497 for the top position. She also had the best single game, a 186. Chris Au was runner-up with a 454.

★

Dave Prion was the leading bowler in the Tappan Stove league with a 196-177-213—586, but Joe Harrod and Bill Mabee ran a close race for second with Harrod having the edge with 532.

★

Eileen Swank set the pace for the Auxiliary shooters with a 433 mark. She was followed by Pollanna Boone, 413, and Hulda Pahls 406.

Ontario Quint Meets Butler In Loop Game

First division clubs meet second division outfits in tonight's four-game high school basketball card in the Richland county league.

Possibly the top contest on the docket will be the battle between the league-leading Ontario combo and suddenly-tough Butler Bulldogs at Ontario. Coach Dick Casad's Ontario Warriors have romped over seven county opponents in a row and hold a 57-to-31 victory over Butler.

But the result could change a bit tonight. After dropping its first five league games, Butler has won three in a row to advance from the cellar to fifth place in the standings. However, no team has been able to come closer than four points to the Warriors.

Bellville second - place Blue Jays play at Plymouth, Lexington goes to Union and Shiloh plays at Lucas in the other games. Bellville, Lexington and Lucas round out the first division.

In first round play, Bellville defeated Plymouth, 34 to 24; Lexington won over Union, 61 to 23 and Lucas won over Shiloh, 54 to 23. Lexington has already played 15 games, winning nine.

Tygers Play Two Tough Cage Foes

The Tygers are scheduled to play in New Philadelphia tonight and return to Mansfield to meet Springfield Public Saturday night at Senior high. The New Philly Quakers have won four of eight games while the Springfield crew has four wins in nine games.

Although neither team has an impressive record, both have shown enough to knock off the Bengals. The Quakers have won four of five on their home court. The only loss at New Philly was to Akron Garfield, 52 to 45.

FOUR LETTERMEN

Last year, Mansfield smashed the Quakers, 67 to 36, in the Tyger lair. New Philly has four lettermen back from that game while Senior high has three.

Coach Vern Hoffman and his 10-man varsity squad were scheduled to leave at 4:45 this afternoon for New Philadelphia. Players making the trip: Norb Shibinski, Paul Ferguson, Ed Deyman, Jimmy Anderson, Ken McCally, Ed Schmitt, Willie Fowler, A. C. Jenkins, Charles Marchant and Esker Jordan.

Springfield and Mansfield have played only one common foe. The Wildcats knocked off Lima Central, 49 to 38, while the latter team defeated Mansfield, 59 to 49. However, Big Fred Pearl, who starred against Central is no longer on the Springfield team. He quit the squad after the Dayton Stivers game.

RUSH IS BACK

Clive Rush is the only letterman off the springfield team which defeated Mansfield last year, 30 to 29. He stands 6-1, but made only one point last year while Pearl had nine. The Wildcat starting lineup averages a bit under six feet but Coach Elwood Pitzer has a whole flock of subs over six-foot.

Springfield has beaten Monroe, 44 to 39; Dayton Roosevelt, 48 to 37; Chillicothe, 56 to 37, and Central. Losses have been to Columbus South, 36 to 51; Columbus West, 41 to 55; Dayton Stivers, 335 to 51; Middletown, 45 to 66 and Portsmouth, 51 to 59.

A reserve game tomorrow will open the program at 7 p. m.

BOSTON —(AP)— Baldwin Wallace's relay quartet will be among the teams to take part in the K. of C. indoor track games at the Boston Garden Jan. 22.

Galento Now Top Wrestler But Wants Louis

By OSCAR FRALEY

ORANGE, N. J. - (UP) Ten years after the night he stood within fleeting seconds of the world's heavyweight championship, two-ton Tony Galento paused today on the threshold of wrestling greatness and offered to fight Joe Louis "absolutely for nothin'."

"I'd murder the bum," the 360-pound Newark nightstick growled with a refreshingly new vocal attack.

Tony, still short but piled wider than ever, yearns for the ring even though his manager, Willie (the Beard) Gilzenberg, insists that he remain among the grunt and groaners. Even the fact that Strangler Lewis is taking over as czar of the Torso Thespians, with the unprecedented possibility that there soon may be but one wrestling champion, Tony can't be placated.

"I get sick when I see these bums who call themselves heavyweights today," quoth Tony as he finished six games of handball. "I'll take any two of them on the same night."

Galento, never one to be overly modest, insisted that wrestling was a much tougher dodge than exchanging padded blows.

"Okay, so people say wrestling is an act," he grunted. "Well, nobody ever hurt me fighting. But since I've been wrestling I've got football knees, a chipped elbow and a banged up back."

Tony patted a hairy chest and asserted that a wrestler, particularly one who had been a boxer, could beat a fighter any time.

"I've learned a lot in this racket," he said. "If I could get that Louis again it would be a real rough fight and I'd knock him out. I'd fight him for nothin', too, for any charity they want. I'm 38 but I'm in better shape than I was 10 years ago. Louis is all washed up."

After a year and a half in the mat game, Galento is starting to know his way around.

"I been beatin' all these guys who call themselves world champions," he said. "Guys like Orville Brown, Marvin Westerberg, Herman Rhode, who also calls himself 'Nature Boy', and Rudy Dusek. In over 125 bouts I never been pinned."

Tony lost two on disqualifications, though. It seems that he forgot he was a wrestler and reverted to his boxing instincts, using his famed left hook to stiffen Frank Sexton at Cleveland and Orville Brown in Kansas City.

"They made me mad," Tony muttered like a kid caught in the cookie jar. "They either put their thumb in my eye or jabbed me. So I leave 'em have it."

The barrel who walks like a man also wrestled a draw with Primo Carnera but later won a team match from Da Preem in straight falls. And he just has been signed for a February tour of the Iowa circuit, after which he will wrestle in Australia and South Africa.

"But my heart ain't in it," Tony confided as "Willie the Beard" walked into another section of the gymnasium. "My heart is in fighting. These bums who are fighting today, agh. . . ."

Tony lapsed into moody silence. The short, wide man they used to call a buddha without brains is doing all right, financially. But the pinnacle he almost reached a decade ago still is calling. Even big guys with muscles can dream.

To Stage Tournament

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Promoter Sam Feinberg said today the University of Cincinnati and Xavier University have agreed to participate in an invitational basketball tournament to be held in the new Cincinnati Gardens March 7-9 Feinberg said he also has a tentative acceptance from Western Kentucky.

B-W Shooting For Tourney Invitation

(By International News Service)

Hopes of a post-season tournament invitation and an appearance in Madison Square Garden at New York lodged in the minds of Baldwin-Wallace's cagers today as they prepared for tonight's clash with LaSalle of Philadelphia.

LaSalle, defeated only once, has a towering squad, the biggest man standing six-feet nine inches, and aspirations of becoming national champions

B-W Coach Ray Watts, however, feels that the Philadelphia college may not be "quite as dangerous as Bowling Green," whom the Bereans defeated last week, 73-60

The Yellow Jackets' tilt with LaSalle will be the first game of a doubleheader at Cleveland's arena In the second game John Carroll takes on a powerful Marquette five

In other games throughout the state tonight, Marietta tackles Capital, Mount Union meets Fenn, Cincinnati goes to Butler, Otterbein plays Muskingum, Kenyou takes on Hiram, and Steubenville travels to Kent State

On the Ohio hardwood last night Xavier knocked off Miami, 61-48, Wilberforce State defeated Bluffton, 56-46, LaCalle toppled Toledo, 62-51, and Waynesburg upset Kent State 66-59
